

eFundi Tutorial: What is the Podcasts tool?

“A podcast is a topic-specific digital stream of audio files (in some cases, video or PDF also) that can be downloaded to a computer or a wide variety of media devices. They are funny, entertaining, educational, often short, and rarely boring. They can cover news, current events, history, or pretty much anything the creator would like.” (Jacqui Murray)

The Podcast tool allows instructors to distribute audio, video, and PowerPoint files to their students either manually or via a RSS feed. Students that subscribe to a site’s RSS Podcast feed can have the audio, video or PowerPoint content automatically downloaded to a “podcatcher” application (such as iTunes) of their choice.

The Podcast tool is a convenient delivery mechanism for students to subscribe to a RSS feed and listen/view content on their Mobile devices.

Instructors can also edit the Podcast permissions to allow students to upload and manage podcast files.

Ways to use Podcasts in teaching and learning

Back to index

Podcasts are by no means a new technology, but the use of podcasts for teaching and learning have been on the rise in recent years. Some of the benefits of using podcasts for teaching and learning include:

- No time is wasted, students can easily listen to a podcast on their mobile phone while traveling
- Build critical thinking skills
- Develop and improve listening skills
- Strengthen language literacy – especially among second or third language students
- Allow students to practice speaking clearly and with confidence
- And much more

South Africa: The Heart problem

Its fifty years since the world's first heart transplant was performed at Groote Schuur hospital in Cape Town. But, there remains a persistent rumour that a black man called Hamilton Naki played a much bigger role than he has been given credit for. In this podcast SOUND AFRICA investigates and asks why this question still lingers all these years later. This episode is a preview to the new Sound Africa season coming early next year. Follow us on iTunes or SoundCloud and subscribe to our newsletter, to never miss an episode. Source: <https://soundcloud.com/soundafrica/the-heart-problem>

Note:

When the Podcast tool is added to the site, a "Public" Podcast folder is created in Resources automatically.

The Podcast folder created in the site Resources and all of the files uploaded are "Public" to allow users to subscribe and access the files through a podcatcher application.

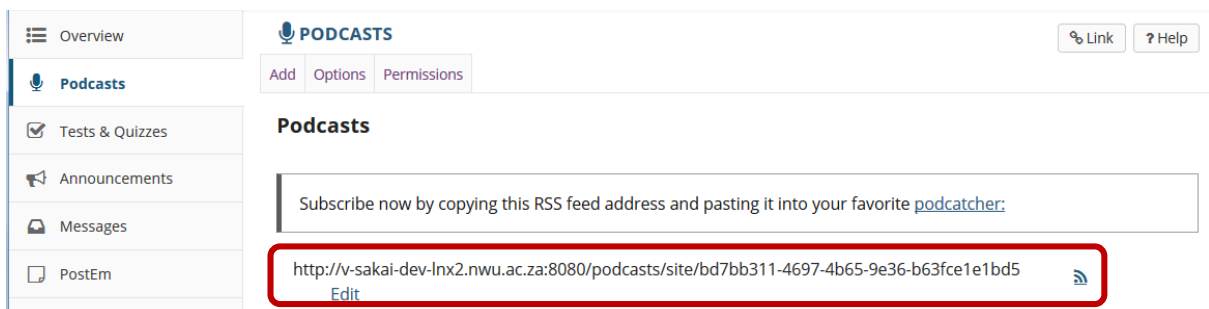

How do my students or I subscribe to a podcast?

Back to index

Instructors and students can subscribe to a site Podcast and have the Podcast files automatically downloaded to a "podcatcher" application of their choice (e.g. iTunes, Podcast Addict or Overcast).

Select the Podcasts tool from the Tool Menu in your site.

Copy the site's Podcast RSS feed URL.

Open your preferred podcatcher application (e.g. iTunes, Podcast Addict or Overcast)

Choose the option to subscribe to or add a podcast channel or RSS feed.

How do I allow students to upload podcast files?

Back to index

Instructors can edit the Podcast tool permissions to allow students to upload and manage the site's Podcast files. This provides a convenient mechanism for students to share audio, video and PowerPoint files.

Select the Podcasts tool from the Tool Menu in your site.

Click Permissions.

The screenshot shows the Podcasts tool interface. On the left is a navigation menu with options: Overview, Podcasts, Tests & Quizzes, Announcements, Messages, and PostEm. The main content area has a header with 'PODCASTS' and buttons for 'Add', 'Options', and 'Permissions' (highlighted with a red box). Below the header, there is a text box with an RSS feed address and an 'Edit' link.

Modify the student tool permissions:

Under the Student column, check the boxes for Create podcasts, Edit own podcasts, Delete own podcasts, and then click Save.
